- PROSPERITY PROCESS

BUDGET VS ACTUAL

Most but not all people have an idea of a budget, however unfortunately too many keep their budget inside of his or her head and not written.

When counseling with people concerning their finances, my first point is to ensure that every client has a written budget. Your mind is meant to hold ideas, concepts, thoughts, vision not remembering dates and times of bills due, that's what one uses paper. The Budget consists of all the bills one pays but for most the budget looks good on paper but when the money hits his or her hand, it slips through, there is never enough money or resources to handle everything.

This is why actual is crucial.

After recording the budget, record the actual dollars spent.
